WELCOME TO P.PORTO

P.PORTO – Politécnico do Porto is a referential public higher education institution. Beginning its activity in 1985, it's today the fourth largest institution of higher education in terms of access.

We are a dynamo of cultural change, both nationally and internationally. We meet current demands, building bridges between academia, the professional world and civil society.

We value the creation of technologically innovative and pragmatic educational environments, thus promoting a creative and challenging routine.

We build strategic cooperation with local agents, and contribute with real solutions to real problems. We are an international community that steams from cooperation within 700+ entity network spread over five continents.

We rank fourth among first-choice higher education institutions, and fifth in number of students

We welcome an average of 1.500 international students in P.PORTO's schools annually. 48 universities from around the world welcome our teaching staff every year. In numerous students of P.PORTO participated in exchange programmes last year. Communitarian programmes have made available vocational work placements for researchers and postgraduate students at international companies

P.PORTO introduces you to people all over the world

Politécnico do Porto is spread across an extensive and diversified area

At Campus 1, between downtown Porto and the mainly technological and innovative area of Asprela (north of the county), P.PORTO students can enjoy the perks of both innovative and technological learning venues and a bustling, increasingly cosmopolitan city. The Asprela Campus, one of the largest in the Iberian Peninsula, covering roughly 250 acres, houses learning, research and innovation, sports and services facilities. There you can find around 60,000 people working and researching every single day.

Campus 2 is located between the towns of Vila do Conde and Póvoa de Varzim. The campus boasts modern infrastructures, state-of-the-art equipment at the disposal of both the School of Media Arts and Design and the School of Tourism and Hospitality. There are many advantages to living in both these towns. Vila do Conde and Póvoa de Varzim, enjoys a rich architectural heritage, exquisite gastronomy and a student friendly cost of living.

Felgueiras is home to Campus 3, where we can find the School of Management and Technology. This School is the hub of strong synergies created by the coming together of the educational offer the local businesses, which are varied and mainly industrial.

RESEARCHING AT P.PORTO

The priority action axis of P.PORTO in R&D aims at generating knowledge to meet society's great challenges, whether they are of a local, regional or international nature. Our researchers are involved in the latest findings and emerging trends.

Our culture combines leadership with partnership, convergence with diversity, competitiveness with cooperation

Our researchers are involved in the latest findings and emerging trends. We head European projects, such as 3P's, which researches into nanomaterials and biosensors used in cancer detection, and the P-SOCRATES project, which deal with real time critical systems for parallel computing. We also head large intercontinental projects, such as DREAM-go (with the USA), which is on Intelligent Power Networks, and GMOSensor (with Brazil and Argentina, one of the biggest projects of the Marie-Curie programme in H2020, covering biosensors for the areas of Environment and Food. There is also Visir+, another project with Brazil and Argentina, aimed at the consolidation of a Remote Laboratories network, and EKRUCAmi (with South Korea) for the area of Intelligent Environments

We bridge senior researchers' efficiency with young researchers' audacity. Our culture is based on the deep and constant dialectics between accomplishment and production. We have a pragmatic, performance driven thinking. We promote a sustained and inclusive work strategy. We cooperate and lead at national and international level.

MOBILITY

Foreign students may come to P.PORTO through the ERASMUS+ programme.

Each year, over 400 students enjoy a study period at P.PORTO (from 3 to 12 months), carry out their research projects, work placements or training periods. The ERASMUS+ programme also makes it possible for both teachers and staff members to enjoy mobility periods at fellow foreign institutions. The Erasmus Charter for Higher Education 2014-2020 (EACEA) sanctions the quality of mobility in higher education institutions of the countries that have signed the LLP memorandum. At P.PORTO, students may easily come across a teacher from a different continent (Europe, Africa, Asia or South America) lecturing on the field of their expertise.

CULTURE

Striving for excellence in higher education, P.PORTO is committed to being a dynamic agent in the creation, production, dissemination and development of culture

FESTIVALS AND EXHIBITIONS

P.PORTO's agenda is both regular and lively. There are film and documentary cycles (Imagens do Real Imaginado), music festivals (Semana PTM, Festival Harmos, Rampa Jazz or Curso Internacional de Música Antiga), a regular programming with live performances and exhibitions of plastic arts. P.PORTO is a talent incubator, where culture has the last word.

LIBRARIES

Each School has its own library, as well as access to the Central Library, located in Campus 1 in Porto. It has modern and excellent common areas, as well as a fundamental collection of ancient and rare books.

THEATRE

The Helena Sá e Costa Theatre has a regular programming, with national and international performances. It aims at promoting the Arts (both academic and professional), showing the new trends and supporting art projects, which may range from classical to experimental.

CAFÉ CONCERT

The Café Concert Francisco Beja is home to exhibitions and concerts. This welcoming area offers a regular programming, small performances and theatre shows, jazz concerts, chamber and contemporary music, small orchestras and other kinds of musical groups.

ART COLLECTION

P.PORTO has a important collection of contemporary Portuguese painting, which was on display at the Soares dos Reis National Museum, Porto, in 2015.

MUSEUM

The Museum in Porto School of Engineering has a collection of scientific- teaching instruments, which constitute almost a time capsule, where the great technological advancements of past centuries may be appreciated. Apart from this asset, the museum also includes a library with over 2.000 books.

PARTNERSHIPS P.PORTO

Together with regional cultural agents, set up a broad network that makes it possible for the members of the community to access cultural life, in advantageous conditions. Individual and group discounts for S. João National Theatre, TeCA, S. Bento da Vitória, Seiva Trupe, Casa da Música or Soares dos Reis National Museum are only some of the benefits that P.PORTO students, schools and assistant staff are granted, thanks to the partnerships established.

ORCHESTRAS

P.PORTO is particularly good in the musical scene, as the result of the work done in the degrees of Voice, Jazz, Music Production and Ancient Music. The ESMAE Symphony Orchestra, with over 80 musicians, or the ESMAE Chamber and Baroque Music, all, with a strong international stand.

ACADEMIC GROUPS

P.PORTO has several extracurricular activities cells and academic groups in which students may participate. "Tunas" and "fado" groups of P.PORTO organise and participate in music festivals, performances and gatherings. The quality of these groups has earned them national and international recognition, translated into awards and invitations for performances.

SPORTS

P.PORTO identity stands on a culture of cooperation, competition and individual responsibility

In P.PORTO we believe that sport promotes social cohesion, integration and fraternisation, all of which undoubtedly contribute to the construction of our collective identity. Every day hundreds of students and other people from the surrounding communities practice different sports in our fully equipped sports facilities, giving meaning to a full and responsible citizenship.

Our identity stands on a culture of cooperation, competition and individual responsibility. We support student's practice in many sports modalities, both amateur and federated, and we offer a wide range of top quality sports facilities, entirely adjusted to the practice of various modalities.

P.PORTO sports complex includes, sand courts, a climbing wall, a fitness complex, outdoor five-a-side football fields, tennis courts, a multi-functional pavilion adjusted for the practice of handball, basketball, badminton, 5-a-side football, table tennis, volleyball, etc. It has been certified for official competitions and has a grandstand that seats 400 people. Based in a pragmatic cooperation between Students Unions, we support sport's practice available by Portugal University Sports (FADU - Federação Académica do Desporto Universitário) as well as other extra curricula activities.

The P.PORTO students can also aspire to represent the Politécnico do Porto in the Nacional University Championships (CNU's) and many other international competitions in several modalities.

(P.)PORTO WAY OF LIFE

PORTO

Vibrant, multicultural and packed with history

P.PORTO lives and operates in an international context. The foreign students we welcome every year are integral to this, which is why we want them to feel at home.

This is not particularly difficult in a city that was a European Capital of 2001, which hosts one of the best music festival in the world since 2012, which offers venues such as the Casa de Serralves Museum and the Casa da Música, which is home to one of the great football clubs in the Iberian Peninsula, which hosts a world-known New Year's Eve celebration, which was awarded the title of Best European Destination 2014/2016 and which boasts some of the best hostels in the world.

The Porto airport, which welcomes all those who arrive (or return), was elected Best Airport by Size and Region by the Airports Council International. Besides all this, UNESCO classified Porto as world heritage site in 1996, for its outstanding historical centre.

The Douro, the river that flows alongside the city, gave its name to the oldest demarcated wine region in the world. The Alto Douro Wine Region, where the world-renowned Port wine is produced, was also classified world heritage site by UNESCO.

In addition to this heritage, you will find a current vitality and dynamism, a sparkle which allows both residents and visitors to safely enjoy a rich cultural and social life as in any European capital.

There's no shortage of things to do, or people to meet. You have to be here to live it first-hand. Porto is so special that, at the beginning of the 19th century, a Portuguese King left his heart in legacy to the city. Metaphorically, however, everybody leaves their hearts in the city which gave its name to the country.

VILA DO CONDE/PÓVOA DE VARZIM

Historic heart, glassy river mouth and amazing beaches

As in Porto, tourists and residents alike can enjoy both the river Ave's banks and the Atlantic seashore. Vila do Conde is a major industrial centre, fishing port, beach and tourist area. It is one of the leading and most sought after bathing centres in the country. The city is part of the same larger urban agglomeration as Póvoa de Varzim. Póvoa de Varzim's population is roughly 65.000 people.

The sunny coastline and beaches, the inviting promenade with delicious pastries and outdoor coffee-shops, the casino, the passion for football, carnival and enjoying life attracts both tourists, students, business and new residents.

FELGUEIRAS

Heritage, culture and tradition

The city is welcoming to visitors and students. The cost of living is quite appealing and its gastronomy has been acclaimed. The bustle of everyday life is typical of an entrepreneurial community but there is always time for a good glass of sparkling wine and some rich egg pastry.
